To whom it may concern,

I have been a satellite customer for over 2 years and the recent addition of local traffic and weather has been a blessing. I do not have the time to locate the appropriate radio stations for weather and traffic in each of the cities I do business in. In a severe weather situation as the nation has seen recently in the midwest, there could be serious consequences if one was not able to locate local weather alerts on local radio stations fast enough. Where XM weather alerts are just one touch away. In addition local radio stations dilute their weather broadcasts with commercials that are unwanted by this listener. XM local weather and traffic is just that weather and traffic. Do not rescind this right of mine or XM Satellite.

Thank You,
Richard C. Gomez
